

Literacy Learning Clubs

May 9, 2017

4:30 – 6:00 Fireside Lounge, BLC, Rider University

Join the NWP@Rider team for an interactive session focusing on the use of literacy learning clubs as a tool for motivating and engaging tweens and teens in literacy across the disciplines. In this session, Heather draws from her soon to be released book (May 2017) Literacy Learning Clubs in Grades 4-8: Engaging Students across the Disciplines. Participants will have the opportunity to learn how this strategy can be a tool for supporting students' literacy development in grades 4-8 and will leave with research, resources and ideas for the classroom.

Session presented by:

Heather Casey, Ph.D.
Associate Professor
Literacy Education
Graduate Level Literacy Concentration Program Coordinator
Rider University
Site Director - National Writing Project@Rider - www.nwprider.org
102M Memorial Hall
2083 Lawrenceville Rd.
Lawrenceville, NJ 08648
609-895-5646/hcasey@rider.edu

Author of Literacy Learning Clubs in Grades 4-8: Engaging Students across the Disciplines
Available May 2017
www.guilford.com/p/casey

